MAKES FOURTH OF JULY TALK

PREFERS WAR WITH MEXICO TO THE PRESENT KIND OF PEACE.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 5.—Theodore Roosevelt, addressing his fellow villagers at a Fourth of July celebration here Tuesday, asserted that he preferred war to the peace that the United States is at present having with Mexico. In the event of an actual declaration of war and call for volunteers, he said he would give his homestead as the first opportunity to join with him in proffering their services to the government.

Col. Roosevelt declared, however, that he would rally around him the single men and those without families dependent upon them.

Jol. Roosevelt did not mention the presidential campaign.

The United States mine-planting cruiser Baltimore came here for the celebration. The marines participated in a parade and later visited Col. Roosevelt at his home.

WHY DO THEY HATE US?

Why do Mexicans hate us? We can understand how they may have inherited a feud against the United States for the unjust war of conquest and annexation they may very reasonably have interpreted the war of 1846 to have been since it confirmed the separation of Texas and deprived Mexico of its fairest domain. But why should Mexicans hold individual Americans in personal hatred who live among them, and have intimate business dealings and social relations with them?

The Philadelphia Public Ledger quotes "an enlightened Philadelphian who traveled through Mexico in recent years," as saying:

"Treat a native down there as you would treat a man here and not as a dog, which is the way he has been treated, and he is your friend for life."

Are we to understand, then, that it is the rule for Americans in Mexico to treat the natives as they would "treat a dog," and if so, why?

There must be some reason for the special and virulent hatred with which the Mexicans are claimed by those who have personal knowledge of the conditions to distinguish Americans above other nationalities, and this, notwithstanding the Americans ordinarily are in position to befriend the natives and make fast and devoted personal friends of them, if they are so well-disposed as the above quotation would imply.

Uncle Sam touches elbows with Mexico for 1,000 miles, says the writer in the Public Ledger, but we don't know Mexico as well as know Tibet, and Mexico knows more of the man in the moon than she knows of us.

"Mexico is seventeen times as big as Pennsylvania and has nearly twice that state's population. But of Mexico's more than 15,000,000 inhabitants, how many came to the United States in 1914?

"Only 14,600! In that same year 1,204,000 other immigrants landed in America.

"Why is it that out of every eighty-four foreigners who seek a better home in this republic only one is a Mexican, when all he has to do to get here is to step across an imaginary line?

"What ails the Mexican and what ails the United States that it fails to attract him as it attracts all other peoples?"

This seems indeed a significant circumstance, though we have no inkling of what the significance may be. The writer says that the Pennsylvania Railroad company recently brought there from El Paso 180 Mexicans, who took the places of Italian track laborers. They handled the pick and shovel as if they had been used to them, and they were amazed and delighted at the size of the pay which was so much greater than they had been accustomed to receive.

"A taste of American life," the writer suggestively says, "a taste of our high wages, free living and free schools, a taste of our better health and clothes, and a taste of those chances which other foreigners are swift to seize after coming here, would soon make it as hard to start a revolution in Mexico as in Philadelphia.

"Who's Who" is full of the names of men from England, Germany, Holland, Ireland, Canada, Sweden, Wales, France and Italy who have come to America and in one generation become notables.

"But who can recall the name of a single Mexican who ever came to us and achieved fame? The trouble is they don't come."

But why? It is a mystery too deep for us to fathom.

And yet, numbers of them seem to have the intelligence necessary to impel them to hasten across the border and get into American territory for safety, hostile as they hold it to be, in view of the imminent menace of war.

PLEDGES TO FUNDS FOR SOLDIER BOYS SHOULD BE SETTLED

NUMBER OF SUBSCRIPTIONS HAVE NOT YET BEEN PAID TO TREASURER.

CHECK SENT TO CAPT. CABLER

Fifty Dollars To Aid The Boys In Getting Some of the Necessities—Subscriptions Will be Received at The Herald Office.

What is the matter? You made your pledge to the support of the Columbia Military Co., but there are still several pledges that remain unpaid. The treasurer wants to send Captain Cabler a check within the next few days. The boys need the money, many of them are in camp without a cent in their pockets, and they will need many little necessary things that they otherwise cannot get unless the people at home send the funds to them. One gentleman remarked today that he would have to send his son some money, as he had left home without a penny in his pocket. Some fathers will not have the money to send to his son, it therefore behooves the Columbia people to respond to this call and come across with contributions for the "Mess Fund."

There has already been reported $164.60. Much of this money has been used in hiring automobiles going over the county gathering boys for the company, paying board bills, etc., while they were waiting. This has cut down the fund considerably. The treasurer forwarded $50.00 today to Captain Cabler, as the company will need it worse now than they will at any other time while they are in the service, as it will probably be two months before they will get paid off, owing to the heavy work upon the army officers.

Previously reported $164.60
Kuhn's Five and Ten Cent Store 1.00
James Dugger 1.00
J. H. Morgan 5.00

Total to date $171.60
Smoking and chewing tobacco, cigars and pipes will be acceptable and appreciated by the boys as well as the cash money.

ALL MARKETS ON A STRONG BASIS

WHEAT IS A FRACTION HIGHER TODAY, BUT LITTLE COMING IN.

Cattle Stronger, While The Quotations on Hogs Are Unchanged.

Wheat was a little stronger today, after the two days' holiday on the grain exchange, July wheat selling at $1.01½. Very little of the new crop of wheat is coming to the market and practically none of that will grade strictly No. 2. Some of the wheat has weighed as low as forty-six pounds and probably fifty-six would get the average, although some No. 2 has been received.

Cattle were stronger today than they have been in several days.

Hogs were steady, with quotations unchanged and prospects for a steady market on sheep and lambs were good.

The egg market is strong, candied stock bringing nineteen cents. Poultry is weak, with prospects for a lower price.

BATTLE CRY OF PEACE AT VOGUE

MOST STUPENDOUS AND SPECTACULAR MOVING PICTURE EVER MADE.

"The Battle Cry of Peace," the most stupendous and spectacular moving picture ever made, will be shown at the Vogue Theatre two days, Tuesday and Wednesday, July 18 and 19. In this wonderful photoplay 25,000 soldiers are used, 8,000 horses are led to slaughter, several thousand actors and supernumeraries depict the different parts, and it shows the bombardment of New York by a foreign foe, using seventeen airships, a large fleet of dreadnaughts, submarines and torpedo boats, skyscrapers tumbled to the earth by the enemy's howitzers, shrapnel and bombs, the powerlessness of New York, the most appealing love story ever shown on the screen, a head-on railroad train collision, Washington reduced to ruin, death-dealing artillery duels. In fact, it shows the condition our beloved country would be in if invaded by a foreign foe of the first class. This picture was endorsed by Hiram Maxim, the great gun-maker, and the secretaries of the Army and Navy, and by President Wilson and his cabinet, and it has converted tens of thousands of peace-at-any-price citizens into loyal, patriotic Americans who now want to see America prepared to uphold her honor and dignity against the mightiest foe who might make free with our beloved flag. The management of the Vogue has gone to great expense to get this wonderful picture, which was shown in all the large cities at $2.00, but it will be shown here at thirty-five and twenty-five cents, five shows daily being given, beginning at 10 a. m. A large orchestra will be used, playing appropriate music.

GREAT BREEDING OF ANGUS CATTLE

SIRE ONE OF THE BEST IN ALL THIS COUNTRY—BROTHER OF CHAMPION.

Tabulated pedigrees, showing five generations of the breeding of the herd of Aberdeen-Angus cattle to be sold here on Friday, were received by F. J. Derby, the sales manager, this morning. With the pedigrees came a letter from Greenview Stock Farm, of Aledo, Ill., one of the noted Aberdeen-Angus herds of the country, in which it is stated that the breeder of the cattle to be sold here has one of the best bred herds in the country. Of the bull that sired the heifers in the coming sale, it is stated: "He is a son of Scottish Stamp, a brother of the great Lucy's Prince. Lucy's Prince was three times champion and twice grand champion at the International Live Stock Show at Chicago, and was as good bull as we ever raised. If good producing ancestry makes good cattle, I would have no hesitation in recommending these cattle."

THREE FATALLY WOUNDED IN FIGHTS

FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATIONS RESULT IN MANY AFFAIRS.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., July 5.—Three men were fatally wounded during fights at Fourth of July celebrations in this vicinity Tuesday, and several were injured during races and other holiday events.

At Whitwell, Tenn., Asa Condra was shot fatally by Sam Thompson, deputy sheriff, while the latter was seeking to make several arrests for fighting.

At Pikeville, Tenn., during a celebration on the public square, John Knight and James Enny engaged in a pistol duel. Both will die.

Minor accidents resulted in injuries to motorcycle racers.

There were no injuries due to fireworks. In the celebrations held in this vicinity there was little evidence of the preparedness movement or of the spirit resulting from the Mexican trouble.
